MR. NUGGETS
AWAITS!

“Dig... sift... dig... sift.”

Finding Mr. Nugget is hard work. However, there's nothing like a day spent working under the sun in the valley to clear one's mind. The fresh sound of water running... the sharp, metallic tapping of nuggets at the bottom of my sieve... the gentle murmur of the meadow...

Oh, I can hear your calling, Mr. Nugget. I will find you!

In Mr. Nugget, the design of the miner's work mechanics will provide the player with a pleasant, immersive experience. These mechanics, paired with custom sound design and controls tailored for each activity, will enable the player to experience life in the valley.

Expedition to the Valley

The valley is well-known for the strange stories told by those who have traversed it.
I am sure my expedition will not be the exception.
I wonder who or what I will cross paths with during my journey and what decisions I will make to find Mr. Nugget...

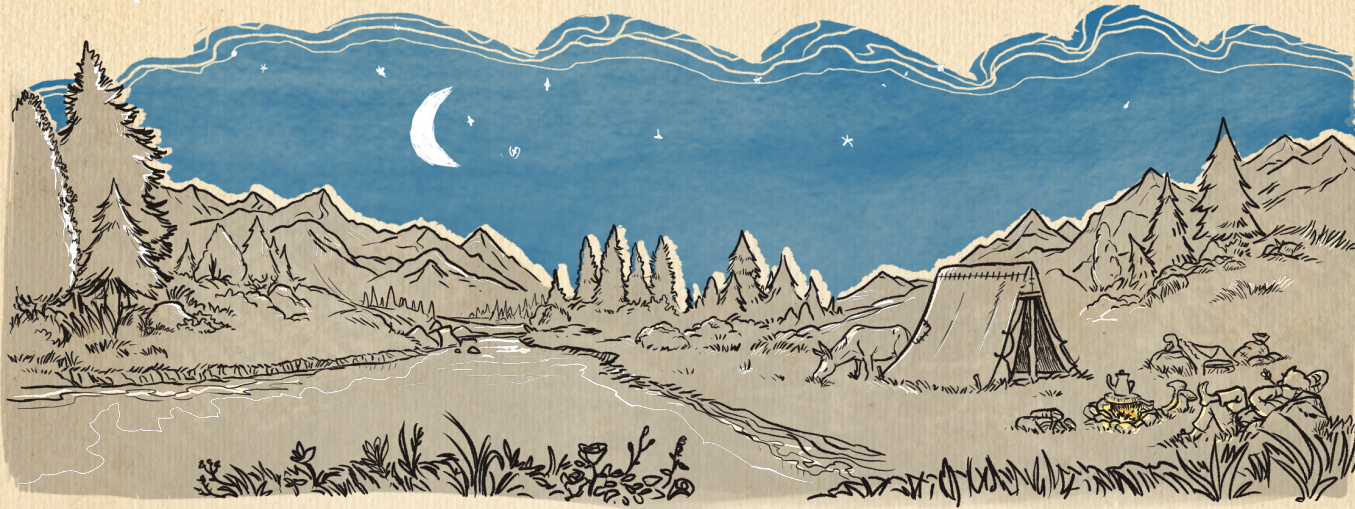

Mr. Nugget's roguelike-based elements and event system ensure no two expeditions will be the same. The player will encounter several storytelling events that will affect their luck and force them to make decisions. These decisions may have consequences that affect map composition, inventory, future events and even the reaction from NPCs. The player will feel their choices matter. Their knowledge about the valley and its occurrences grant them an advantage during their journey.

Living in Nature

This adventure will make me live in the valley looking for food, walking endlessly, and camping alone. Nonetheless, I will enjoy being out in the sun looking for Mr. Nugget's gold veins with the sound of the river, the wind blowing, the insects, the foliage, and the birds, who sing a song sweeter than the noises of large city factories.

The immersive experience through the game's ambient sound will transport the player to the valley, creating a pleasing and relaxed environment that will increase the enjoyment level derived from playing.
